Fronting reactions to V-E Day at Calthorn, most of the students approached had little to say beyond agreeing that it was rather an anti-climax to yesterday.

As Moore guesses that about the only thing to be said is that we shall have to settle down now with a will and go after the Japs. - Fred Vos wondered how Germany would be governed, and, of course, how much longer it will be before Japan is defeated. - Hans Lynch predicted that there will be at least five more years of unrest in Europe, until some sort of leadership can be asserted within the smaller nations.

Professor of International Relations, Arnold Wolfers, said that there is no comparison in history to equal the present collapse of Germany.
Even in this war the defeat of Poland and then of France can not stand up to this debacle, for when they fell, ~~they~~ ^{others} were left to carry on their share of the war. Only a miracle, Prof. Wolfers said, could reestablish Germany as a political unit. It is impossible, he said, to predict what effect this catastrophe will have on the German mind. It is conceivable, however, that the direction of National thought and ambition of Germany will be completely changed.

Anthems of the Big Three

Announcer: In salute to the three major nations who were instrumental in bringing about this V-E day, WOCDZ now presents a program of the national anthems of the three great allies England, Russia, and the United States. It is only fitting that the first nation honored on this program be Great Britain. For a long time this tiny island kingdom was the only barrier to Germany's desire for world conquest. Its people have been bombed steadily both by airplanes and rocket bombs. Reeling under this bombardment they fought back a long way until today once more Great Britain has emerged victorious. We start this Program therefore with the national anthem of Great Britain--- God Save The King.

Monitor: Up God Save the King.

Announcer: Our great ally Russia has contributed greatly to the downfall of the Nazis. They absorbed the full weight of the German military might, but managed to recover and drive the invaders all the way back to Berlin. Many of the German soldiers and machines that might have fought against us were killed or destroyed by the Red Army. In grateful appreciation this next anthem on our program is that of United Soviet Socialist Republics.

Monitor: Up U.S.S.R. anthem

Announcer: On this victorious day we may look back and be proud of ~~our~~^{own} record in the war. Once again our industrial might was underrated and once again it succeeded beyond all hopes. Our Navy is the most powerful in the world; our Air Force rules the sky in all parts of the globe; and our fighting men have disproved the thought that America was growing soft. Although for Americans the war is not yet over, it is only right that we honor those that have given their lives to defeat the threat of Facism in the world by dedicating to them our own national anthem -- The Star Spangled Banner.

Monitor: Up Star Spangled Banner

ANTHEMS OF THE BIG THREE (CONTINUED)

Announcer: The three major allies Great Britain, Russia, and the United States, while playing the major part in defeating Germany, were not alone. Many countries have suffered heavily under the control of ~~the~~ Nazi occupation and many of them are forgotten in the present joy of victory. The underground in all these occupied countries harassed the conquerers at every possible opportunity. Then too there are the other countries that have materially contributed to the downfall of Hitler and his supporters. To all the United Nations on V-E day we play now the United Nations March.

Monitor: Up United Nations March.

Announcer: If you need still more stuff to pass the time until 8:30 make up your own.

TIME: 8:30

Monitor: Play G. Miller's Moonlight Serenade for 20 sec., then fade...
